executive director's report

The year of 2013 was a paradigm changer for USA Field Hockey. The biggest causation was the establishment of our relationship with a new spectacular facility in Lancaster, Pa., Spooky Nook Sports. Spooky Nook Sports is a multisport facility encompassing a 15-acre building with playing venues both inside and outside the building complex. The field hockey campus includes scores of indoor courts, sports science facilities plus locker room and coaching offices. Outside, there are two turfs with one under a dome which provides for year round play. It is likely the largest multisport facility found globally, and certainly offers a profoundly top shelf facility to field hockey for both the indoor and outdoor game. The facility is now known, for hockey purposes, as the Home of Hockey.

The USA Field Hockey Women's National Team is domiciled in the building (having moved from the California based Chula Vista Olympic Training Center) along with a robust high performance staff headed by head coach Craig Parham, a multi-time Olympian and Olympic coach. The facilities for the team and others using the facility are absolutely top level and the sports science and nutritional opportunities are of a higher quality due to their sport specificity for hockey. Part and parcel of the contractual relationship with Spooky Nook Sports' owners of the facility, is the staging of many hockey activities and events. The advantages are numerous including the geography of Spooky Nook Sports' location (in hockey's hotbed) along with the pristine new facility. This new facility is a game changer for the sport and we will continue to see advantages as the years go by.

The financial condition of USA Field Hockey remains strong even with the contractual obligations of replacing two turfs at the Virginia Beach National Training Center facility. Although the Virginia Beach facility is no longer the national training site for the national teams, USA Field Hockey was obligated to pay 40% of the costs associated with the turf replacement. That expenditure was spread over a three year timeframe (2013, 2014 and 2015) with a total anticipated impact of $524,000. That, unfortunately, was a huge hit to our continuing efforts to build a reserve for this ever-growing organization.

The organization is continuing to grow with more events, a newly created sanctioning program for third party events and hockey activities and growth within existing programs. Additionally, the development programs of FUNDamental Field Hockey and You Go Girl are showing promise in providing more athletes for the future.

Our umpire community had a great 2013, with much growth and many improvements in umpire development. For the second year in a row, our umpiring community expanded by more than 10% throughout 2013. Our membership saw a total of 73 new umpires, with 54 brand new members and 19 who switched from Player to Umpire. Each membership region held at least two Umpire Academies in 2013, which mainly focused on younger umpires in college or high school. "Jump In: A Beginner's Guide to Umpiring", a learning how to umpire curriculum, was published and over 200 books have been distributed associated with trainings. The Umpire Rating Procedure was developed and published, allowing all umpires to understand how to obtain and maintain a USA Field Hockey Rating. We are now able to use some of our events to evaluate for a Level 3 rating, the highest we provide, using high performance and NCAA matches. The Tournament Rules Advisory Committee was developed to help with information as it relates to tournament rules, mainly within the club system. Our umpiring community also saw many more international appointments than we have seen in a long time, both on the umpire side and the technical side.

I think you will find the contents of this report to be encouraging generally as we make continual moves toward growth and are showing an upward trajectory in international competition.

2013 was another record year for USA Field Hockey in terms of annual corporate partnership, reaching $1,200,000 commercially. With almost three dozen sponsorship agreements in place, we continue to grow our partnerships and form business relationships with more companies every year. As USA Field Hockey's membership grew 9% in 2013, we can provide greater value to our sponsors and partners by exposing their brands to more field hockey enthusiasts than ever before.

Four new sponsors were added to the USA Field hockey commercial family last year.

In 2013 we signed our most significant deal in our commercial history with Spooky Nook Sports in Lancaster, Pa. to become the "Home of Hockey" and a premier partner. With the new Home of Hockey nestled in the heart of field hockey talent in the U.S., Spooky Nook Sports will now be the main site of regional and national events. Spooky Nook Sports is one of the finest sports and entertainment complexes in North America. With world-class facilities, Spooky Nook Sports will now be able to provide USA Field hockey players with indoor courts, an uncovered outdoor field as well as a domed full-size pitch.

Our new "Official Team Physicians", Orthopedic Associates of Lancaster (OAL) is conveniently located inside Spooky Nook Sports. With their outstanding team of surgeons and therapists and array of imaging equipment, they will be providing USA Field Hockey with the most trusted medical care in the Lancaster area.

AstroTurf, the most iconic name in field hockey turf brands, has provided USA Field Hockey with nothing but the best playing surfaces for both of the fields at Spooky Nook, as well as around the country. AstroTurf is dedicated to providing fields that will allow for the highest level of performance for USA Field Hockey event participants.

Gatorade, the leader in sports drinks with over 40 years of studying the best athletes in the world, provides fuel to our athletes at the point of sweat during many of our annual tournaments. From energy drinks to thirst quenchers and protein shakes, Gatorade ensures USA Field Hockey athletes of all levels are fueled with optimal sports nutrition.

With the addition of these four new partners, they join the many long time partners of USA Field Hockey who have supported not only our organization, but our sport for many years. A number of our sponsors, such as CranBarry, YOLO and our housing partner JBS, have been with USA Field Hockey for over 15 years. We take great pride in each relationship we have built with our sponsors and hope to continue these partnerships for many more years with our current and new sponsors.

The growth in the organization as well as the growth of commercial sponsorships over the past year has led to a new role at USA Field Hockey. Katie Naughton, now the Commercial Manager, is responsible for maintaining our current sponsorships as well as seeking new ones. Katie grew up in New Hampshire and played field hockey since she was in middle school. As a young member of USA Field Hockey, she has been through the USA Field Hockey pipeline from Futures, indoor tournaments, festival and the junior national team. She eventually committed to becoming a Hawkeye and attended the University of Iowa where she also played field hockey.

USA Field Hockey continues to perform well in comparison to other top revenue generating field hockey nations. With the help and support of our sponsors and partners, we are able to hold world-class field hockey events and have extremely competitive men's and women's national teams. We are extremely thankful for our commercial partners.

USA Field Hockey's Futures program represents the beginning of the Olympic pipeline. Futures continues to be the premier USA Field Hockey athlete development and showcasing program in the U.S., bridging the gap between playing for your county and playing for your country. Nearly all of the current U.S. Women's National Team members have gone through the Futures program on their journey to achieving Olympic dreams. In the collegiate realm in 2013, 84% of NCAA student-athletes participated in Futures.

Futures participation levels increased across the country again in 2013. Thousands of athletes competed across the nine Futures regions at Regional Futures Tournaments for an opportunity to show off their skills at the 2013 National Futures Championship (NFC). A total of 680 athletes, approximately 8% of the total number of Futures participants, participated in the NFC in Virginia Beach, Va.

Olympic Day, a United States Olympic Committee initiative to celebrate 'Olympism', was celebrated at the 2013 NFC with an athlete celebration dinner, celebrating athlete's accomplishments and featuring Olympians who signed autographs and posed for photos.

Extending from Futures, the Futures Elite Academies and Futures Elite Championship had a successful sophomore year. The top Futures athletes in each region train at Futures Elite Academies in the hope of being selected as one of the top 76 high school athletes to compete in the Futures Elite Championship.

In 2013, membership was on the rise and specifically in the Atlantic region of the country with a 32% increase in the field hockey community in the states of Connecticut and Rhode Island. Not only does USA Field Hockey care deeply that the field hockey community is growing and expanding in region, age, gender and diversity, we are also committed to providing benefits of USA Field Hockey membership that soar higher than membership numbers can achieve. In 2013, USA Field Hockey welcomed additional staff resources in the membership department with primary emphasis on providing members great value for their membership to include valuable membership benefits, premier events and excellent customer service. Discounts to our online store were also a welcomed-back tradition to our members during their birthday month.

Multiple USA Field Hockey initiatives were to thank for the bump in membership numbers including FUNdamental Field Hockey, You Go Girl, Futures and interactive social media marketing – targeted to the Facebook, Instagram and Twitter-fueled field hockey youth. Additional contributors were the Junior Premier Indoor League, Big Apple Memorial 6-A-Side Tournament, Harrow Cup, Harrow Challenge, 4Goals Cup and the Howard County Showcase, all private-sector events that found success in USA Field Hockey's Event Sanctioning program. With our sanctioning program on the rise, the field hockey audience is expanding and will surely lead to growth in our membership and events portfolio for years to come.

The U.S. Men's National Program continued to grow throughout 2013. With an increase in time with athletes within the Centralized Training Program, the allocation of resources provided by the United States Olympic Committee and the long term pragmatic approach to increased performance over time will see the program increase its profile within the U.S. and FIH.

The performance over the course of the year allowed for a great number of players to gain international experience culminating in the Pan American Cup. The players performed admirably over the course of the year with the highlight being the semi-final of the Pan American Cup in a tantalizingly close match where the gap was only a 1-0 scoreline in favor of Canada. This result, as well as the series win against Chile and moments of elite performance against Australia and South Africa with a young U.S. squad, proved that the future is bright for Team USA

WORLD LEAGUE ROUND 2 February 27 – March 5

After winning the World League Round 1 Tournament at the Olympic Training Center, Chula Vista, Calif. in late 2012, the team headed to Brazil for the 2nd leg of the tournament. The games were very competitive against teams mostly ranked ahead of Team USA. A highlight for the U.S. was a tight match against 12th ranked team in the world at the time, South Africa. The squad fought diligently through five matches, but only walked away with one victory..

USA vs AUSTRALIA July 6 – 14

The U.S. headed to Australia to gain experience playing in one of the strongest hockey nations in the world. Victorian Institute of Sport and Combined State Institute Team provided exactly that. Team USA showed obvious improvements throughout the tour providing a strong platform to build upon going into the remainder of the year.

USA vs CHILE August 5 – 6

As final preparation came to a close before the Pan Am Cup, the opportunity to fine tune and sharpen play came in the form of two matches against close rival Chile. Team USA walked away with a draw and a victory in the series. Winning the second match 3-0 was a strong start towards the Pan Am Cup.

With a new Head Coach in Craig Pamham, a new Director of Performance Science in David Hamilton and a brand new culture built around accountability and responsibility for oneself and teammates, 2013 marked a year of transition and growth for the Women's National Team. The 30-player 2013-14 roster featured 12 Olympians, including four two-time Olympians and nine brand new faces.

International competitions throughout 2013 allowed for the team to work on chemistry and tactics while getting acquainted with new coaching, training and playing styles. The highlight of the year occurred during the Pan American Cup in Mendoza, Argentina, where the squad put up a strong fight against Argentina to secure a silver medal and put themselves in position to later qualify for the 2014 Rabobank Hockey World Cup.

2013 – 2014 Women's National Team

Torrie Albini (Escondido, Cali.), Megan Beamesderfer (Iowa City, Iowa), Teresa Benvenuti (Morristown, N.J.),

PAN AMERICAN CUP August 11 – 17

Team USA showed much promise in Brampton, Canada, proving they are very close to the top of North America. A semi-final loss to the Canadian squad ranked well ahead of the U.S. exemplified their ability. Playing the last two and a half games with one player out due to injury showed in the final game, however with such a young squad being exposed to the International level this year the future is encouraging.

Michelle Cesan (New Vernon, N.J.), Lauren Crandall (Doylestown, Pa.), Rachel Dawson (Berlin, N.J.), Katelyn Falgowski (Landenburg, Pa.), Stefanie Fee (Virginia Beach, Va.), Laura Gebhart (Mount Joy, Pa.), Melissa Gonzalez (Mohegan Lake, N.Y.), Rayell Heistand (Hamburg, Pa.), Natalie Hunter (Seaville, N.J.), Jackie Kintzer-Briggs (Robesonia, Pa.), Michelle Kasold (Chapel Hill, N.C.), Kelsey Kolojechick (Larksville, Pa.), Ali McEvoy (Gilbertsville, Pa.), Jaime Montgomery (Lewisburg, Pa.), Caroline Nichols (Virginia Beach, Va.), Katie O'Donnell (Blue Bell, Pa.), Lauren Pfeiffer (Mount Laurel, N.J.), Katie Reinprecht (Perkasie, Pa.), Julia Reinprecht (Perkasie, Pa.), Paige Selenski (Shavertown, Pa.), Kathleen Sharkey (Moosic, Pa.), Caitlin Van Sickle (Wilmington, Del.), Shannon Taylor (Midlothian, Va.), Michelle Vittese (Cherry Hill, N.J.), Alesha Widdall (Whitney Point, N.Y.), Jill Witmer (Lancaster, Pa.), Emily Wold (Freehold, N.J.)

NOTEWORTHY CAPS:

Dawson – 200 (World League Round 2 against Scotland)

Crandall – 200 (Four Nations again Korea)

Falgowski – 150 (World League Round 2 against Italy)

Gonzales – 100 (World League Round 2 against Argentina)

Taylor – 100 (World League Round 2 against Spain)

WORLD LEAGUE ROUND 2 – March 4-10

The U.S. Women's Field Hockey Team advanced to World League Round 3 after an authoritative 6-0 victory over Trinidad and Tobago in the final at the International Hockey Federation's World League Round 2 tournament in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. Team USA finished with a near-perfect record, defeating Brazil, Uruguay, Chile and Trinidad and Tobago and drawing Scotland in regulation.

FOUR NATIONS – April 10-22

The U.S. travelled to New Zealand from April 10-22 to take on higher ranked opponents Argentina, New Zealand and Korea in two separate Four Nations tournaments. The tour was an opportunity for the developmental squad to earn international experience and included a total of eight high-intensity matches.

WOMEN'S NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP – May 23-29

Eighty-four of the top field hockey athletes in the country took to the pitch in Norfolk, Va. for the opportunity to compete for bragging rights and show off their skills in front of the U.S. Women's National Team Coaching Staff. WNC is the annual, premier domestic event for collegiate and post-collegiate athletes and marks the culmination of regional high performance training. After the week-long excitement, Pamham named the 2013-14 U.S. Women's Senior and Developmental National Squads.

WORLD LEAGUE SEMI FINAL – June 22-30

Team USA travelled to Chiswick, Great Britain to compete at the World League Semi Final among the top teams in the world. After a challenging bout of pool play, the U.S. fell to Australia in the quarterfinals, but was able to defeat Spain to capture a 5th place finish. Their final placement put them in a promising position to qualify for the 2014 Rabobank Hockey World Cup.

PAN AMERICAN CUP – September 19-29

During Team USA's Pan American Cup journey in Mendoza, Argentina, the nineteen-member squad displayed monumental growth and determination throughout the tournament. Although Argentina secured the final win with a 1-0 victory in front of a boisterous home crowd, Team USA played with intensity for the full game, took home the silver and earned a coveted spot at the 2014 Rabobank Hockey World Cup held in The Hague, Netherlands.

The U.S. finished first in pool play of the Pan American Cup by defeating Mexico 6-0, Chile 5-1 and Uruguay 6-1 earning them a spot in the semi-final match versus Canada. Team USA played with energy and passion for the entire semi-final match earning the squad a 4-0 victory and a place in the final. For the fifth consecutive year, the U.S. met the host country, Argentina in the championship round. The U.S. made valiant efforts but the team was unable to convert scoring opportunities into goals.

sport development

In 2013, USA Field Hockey once again committed growing the game of field hockey in the United States. Lead by the Sport Development Team and carried out by members and fans across the country, the mission to expose the sport and increase participation has never been more attainable.

The sport development flagship program, FUNdamental Field Hockey, had another fantastic year of growth in 2013. With over 200 new programs signing up and retaining 85% of program from 2012, there were over 400 Fundamental Field Hockey programs happening across the country. That's nearly 10,000 sticks and balls in action all the way from Honolulu, Hawaii to Rochester, New York.

Last year, the Sport Development team and Harrow Sports also introduced additional equipment sizes available for the program. FUNdamental Field Hockey now grants sticks ranging from 28" to 36", so everyone can play.

As we all know, the growth at the youth level is imperative to the continued success on both the amateur and international stage. USA Field Hockey is committed to providing more playing opportunities at the youth level and this was evident in the addition of U12 and U14 divisions at both the National Indoor Tournament and the National Hockey Festival in 2013.

The success of Fundamental Field Hockey did not go unnoticed; the initiative was one of six NGB programs to present at the United States Olympic Committee's Multi Sport Council in Colorado Springs. The exposure to leaders of YMCAs, Boys and Girls Clubs, and youth sport administrators opened up many potential avenues for the growth of field hockey in the United States. One of those potential avenues exists in the physical education and after school system. This year the Sport Development team introduced field hockey as a 'new and exciting' alternative to hundreds of physical education teachers and youth sport administrators through conventions, professional development days and clinics. The response was overwhelming.

In addition to youth development, USA Field Hockey also continued its commitment to 'Grow the Game' in several other divisions, including boys and men. 2013 saw promising growth in male participation, but the mission continues to expose the sport to more young men across the country.

The addition of male clinics (many at little or no cost) has been a key factor, as well as the opportunities for participation at existing USA Field Hockey events. The 2013 National Indoor Tournament hosted an exciting boys division in Richmond, while well-attended male clinics at National Hockey Festival inspired us all.

USA Field Hockey is also committed to exposing the sport in non-traditional areas in an attempt to diversify our membership. From urban Philadelphia to rural Iowa, it is the goal of the Sport Development Team to allow any and all an opportunity to try our sport. One program that aids in the mission is You Go Girl. You Go Girl, which launched in the spring of 2013, is a sport for social change program that empowers urban NCAA field hockey teams to expose the sport in their community. The program partners current collegiate student athletes with local young women in at-risk communities to teach field hockey, character development, healthy lifestyles and the value of education.

Furthermore, USA Field Hockey is committed to offering more playing opportunities at the post-collegiate and adult level for both recreation and competitive play. By providing resources for league organization and tournament sanctioning, in addition to adding adult division to existing tournaments, it is our hope to make participation in this sport a life-long affair. That participation may also come in the form of coaching, umpiring or administering the game, so development in each of those areas is equally as crucial. The Sport Development Team has worked closely with both USA Field Hockey's National Umpire Director and National Coaching Director to assist in the development and sustainability of new umpires and coaches alike.

Growing the game is not a simple task and surely not something USA Field Hockey can complete without the help of several others. That list includes our wonderful 2013 sport development sponsors and partners: Proctor and Gamble, Harrow Sports, CranBarry Field Hockey, Partnership for A Healthier America, Let's Move and the Homer Foundation. It also includes each of our amazing members who continue to coach, umpire and play the game of field hockey. Together, we can and will continue to 'Grow the Game'.

In our second year of fundraising, we continue to be overwhelmed by the amount of people who have shown their support for USA Field Hockey. In a goal to increase cultivation and involvement, we exceeded our expectations and continued momentum as we increased the number of dollars and donors for 2013. Thank you to all that have made the investment and commitment toward our mission to Grow the Game this year.

DISNEY FIELD HOCKEY SHOWCASE | Orlando, Fla. | February 5-9

The Disney Field Hockey Showcase has grown to become one of the field hockey community's most fun events, showcasing over 3,300 players to a crowd of hundreds of recruiting college coaches. Field hockey families agree their time at the lush green fields of the ESPN Wide World of Sports Complex in Orlando, FL is full of hockey excitement and Walt Disney World® magic.

NATIONAL INDOOR TOURNAMENT QUALIFIERS | Various Locations | December - February

National Indoor Tournament Qualifiers, combined with the National Indoor Tournament, make up the largest string of events managed and produced by USA Field Hockey. More than 500 indoor teams competed for a chance to earn a spot in the 2013 National Indoor Tournament. The top 40% of teams from the U19 Indoor Qualifiers were invited to the National Indoor Tournament and the top 30% from the U16 Indoor Qualifiers. Indoor Qualifier locations included: Collegeville, PA, Fairfax, VA, Feasterville, PA, Lock Haven, PA, Loudonville, NY, Louisville, KY, Millersville, PA, Parkerford, PA, Rockville, MD, So. Hadley, MA, St. Louis, MO, Spring City, PA, State College, PA, Virginia Beach, VA and Wexford, PA.

USA Field Hockey greatly appreciates the support of their Indoor Qualifier Hosts in making this event so successful: Janelle Benner, Jenna Ries, Julie Janes, Jun Kentwell, Kara Zappone, Lynn Heoppner, Matt Soto, Pat Rudy, Scotty Tyson, Sean Meily, Starr Karl and Tina Reinprecht.

NATIONAL INDOOR TOURNAMENT | Richmond and Virginia Beach, Va. | March 1-10

Under-19 Girls and Boys: March 1-3, Richmond

Under-14 and Under-16 Girls: March 8-10, Virginia Beach

Hot off the bench from qualifying at an Indoor Qualifier, 112 U19 teams kicked off the 2013 National Indoor Tournament, presented by Yolo Sportswear, in Richmond, VA at the Richmond Convention Center. Not long after the U19 girl's division play began did spectators gravitate toward the rush of boys and men on the courts. Eight full male teams defied the traditionally female dominated event and put on an amazing hockey show.

"I think by showcasing boys at the National Indoor Tournament, we are starting to spread the word of men's field hockey in the U.S.," said Cord Chipman, Men's Under-21 division athlete at the 2013 National Indoor Tournament. "As a player, I appreciate having a venue where I can play against other male field hockey players. I believe that by USA Field Hockey continuing to showcase the boys at the National Indoor Tournament and other national hockey tournaments, men's hockey in the U.S. will continue to see a rapid growth."

The excitement followed the weekend after in Virginia Beach, VA at the Virginia Beach Convention Center with U14 and U16 girls competing in high gear and ending the indoor hockey season on the right note.

REGIONAL CLUB CHAMPIONSHIPS | Various Locations | March - June

In its sophomore year being in the lineup of USA Field Hockey events, The Regional Club Championships, presented by Harrow Sports, saw great growth since its inception. Twelve Regional Club Championships played host to 85 of the most elite and competitive outdoor teams in the nation. Regional Club Championship locations included: Bedford, MA, Epping, N.H., Howard County, Md., Millersville, Pa., Owings Mills, Md., Pitnam, N.J., Spring City, Pa., St. Louis, Mo., and Virginia Beach, Va.

USA Field Hockey greatly appreciates the support of their Regional Club Championship Hosts in making this event so successful: Joan Johnson, Kathi Liszewski, Katie White, Lauren Cornthwaite, Matt Soto, Michelle Palumbo, Richard Kentwell, Scotty Tyson and Stephanie Maychack.

NATIONAL CLUB CHAMPIONSHIP | Virginia Beach, Va. | July 10-18

An accomplishment in itself to even be included in the schedule for this event, 48 teams competed in USA Field Hockey's most elite club event. The National Club Championship, presented by Harrow Sports, hosts 16 of the best club teams across America in three age divisions. Though adverse weather delays kept hockey from the pitches at the Virginia Beach Training Center on some afternoons in 2013, athletes stayed eager, kept their spirits high and had spectacular field hockey moments

DISNEY JUNIOR FIELD HOCKEY SHOWCASE | Orlando, Fla. | July 22-24

The Disney Junior Field Hockey Showcase offers young field hockey players the same opportunity for competition as their older counterparts and proves to be the fastest growing event in USA Field Hockey's collection. Ninety-three teams set foot on the ESPN Wide World of Sport Complex in Orlando, FL, to compete in the 7v7 tournament. Twenty U12 co-ed teams and 73 U14 girl's teams played their hearts out while two Women's National Team athletes, Rayell Heistand and Stefanie Fee, signed autographs and took pictures with players, making the tournament a life-long memory for the little ones.

NATIONAL HOCKEY FESTIVAL | Palm Beach County, Fla. | November 22-25

The International Polo Club in Palm Beach County, Florida once again hosted the 2013 National Hockey Festival, sponsored by CranBarry. Over 200 recruiting college coaches attended the event to recruit the best and most talented athletes our sport has to offer. The U14 girls, 7v7 division added in May proved to be an exciting improvement to the tournament. The additional 42 teams brought the Festival to new heights in 2013 with a whopping total of 254 teams in attendance. The 4-day Thanksgiving Day celebration has an economic impact of approximately 4.5 million dollars to the host community and has become a fortified tradition in the field hockey community. What started years ago as an informal field hockey gathering of a few adult teams has multiplied into the largest field hockey tournament of its kind in the world.
