

New faces and names dominated the winners platform in American and International competition at the 1973 United States Amateur Roller Skating Championships this year. The absence of some of last year's champions including World and U. S. Senior Pairs Champions, Gail and Ron Robovitsky, and World and U.S. Senior Dance Champions, Tom Straker and Bonnie Lambert, along with the defeat of some of this year's defending champions, left the door open for others to step into these Championship titles.

In American Senior Singles events, both defending champions April Allen Powell and Michael Jacques went down in defeat.

In Senior Ladies Singles, April was unable to hold the content of her routine together, whereas Natalie Dunn, last year's Junior Champion, skated a beautiful, strong program, including an excellent triple Salchow and double axel to earn her first place. Barbara Kaffka and Moana Brigham both skated good, solid routines to earn them second and third respectively.

Michael Jacques was unsuccessful in his bid for a 7th consecutive Senior Mens Singles title in a contest that featured fine skating by several promising skaters. Although Michael's routine was filled with excellent content, his manner of performance was not quite up to his usual standards. It left the opening that Mark Revere, from Pontiac, Michigan, needed to slip into the lead with an excellent, flawless routine that won the title in a 3-2 decision over Mike. Third place went to Ken Wojtaszek, who skated a very nicely routined program which included smoothly executed triples.

In both International and American competition, Robin Dayney, a rising new super star on the skating scene, was literally unbeatable. Robin placed first in all four events that she skated: American Junior Ladies Singles, International Junior Ladies Figure Skating, American Freshman Figures, and International Freshman Dance. It will be interesting to see if Robin continues to follow in her brother, U.S. International Senior Men's Champion, Randy Dayney's footsteps as she enters Senior Competition next year.

Unlike the American Senior Singles defending champions, both Debra Palm and Billy Boyd, 1972 American Senior Figure Champions, were able to repeat as champions this year. It was a close contest for them, however, as Debra Neizer, former Freshman and Junior American Ladies Figures Champion, gave Debbie a good run for her money, and 2nd place Keith King skated very accurate figures.

One of the most exciting younger skaters at the Nationals this year, and a name to keep your eye on in the future, was little Robbie Coleman from Memphis, Tennessee. Robbie and partner, Pat Jones, electrified the crowd with an exciting routine in Freshman Mixed Pairs and walked away with the Freshman Pairs title. This was just the beginning for Robbie as she went on to win Elementary Girls Singles and Sophomore Fours along with John Lee Gentry, Tammy Lott, and Pat Jones. Robbie has competition, though, from younger sister Rhonda, who was this year's Tiny Tot Champion. Robbie and Rhonda may be the best sister act in skating since Darlene and Idalee Barile.

Senior Dance Champions Jo and Marie Gaudy skated strongly to recapture their title this year, and last year's third place finishers, Darcy and Mike Fleming moved up into second place this year. Marriage didn't seem to hurt either of these teams any. A very promising team new in Senior Dance this year was John LaBriola and Debra Coyne, last year's Junior Champions who finished third this year in Senior Dance. Watch for them next year as we have heard rumor that both the Gaudys and the Flemings are turning professional this year.

In Free Dance, Kerry Cavazzi and Roseanne Franzone skated a very well-paced, excellently choreographed routine that won them first place. Showing excellent interpretation and mood changes, the team also won Junior International Dance with their audience-pleasing program.

One of the highlights of the Championships was the selection of the World Teams. This year the United States will send to the World Meet, held for the second consecutive year in Germany, some veteran World competitors as well as some promising team members new to World Competition. The Senior Mens team will be exactly the same as last year, as once again Randy Dayney, Billy Boyd, and Keith King finished 1,2,3 in International Senior Mens Figure Skating. Everyone's best wishes will be with Randy Dayney as he once again bids for the World Title that he came so close to winning last year.

With the retirement of Gail and Ron Robovitsky and Dennis Collier and Karen Marshall, the number 1 and 2 Pairs teams in last year's World Championships, the Senior Pairs contest was an event eagerly looked forward to by skaters and spectators alike.

The event preceding Senior Pairs was American Senior Ladies Singles, and although April must have been disappointed with her performance in Senior Ladies, she certainly didn't let it show in Senior Pairs. April and partner Abe Blass skated a beautifully planned and executed routine to take over the Senior Pairs Title. The California team of Louis Stovall and Vicki Hughes Handyside, from Long Beach, skated a very good solid routine, but it was not enough to overcome Abe and April. Louis and Vicki finished second and will be joined by the third place team of Ronald Sabo and Sue McDonald on the World Team. Finishing 4th were the team of Debbie Isenhour, 11, and Royce Miller, 14. Debbie and Royce skated excellently and undoubtedly left some people wondering what would happen if they had placed, as Debbie is not old enough to compete in world competition, where the minimum age requirement is 12.

In International Senior Ladies Figures, Debbie Palm, who was in first place after compulsory figures, was able to withstand a strong freestyle routine by Natalie Dunn and claim the title. Natalie, who was a Singles competitor in 1971, once again skated a strong routine that pulled her from 5th place after eliminations up to a very close second. Third place went to Barbara Kaffka, who finished 5th last year at Worlds.

The well-balanced team of Jane Purrachio and James Stephens, who placed 5th at their first World Championships last year, won International Senior Dance after establishing a large lead in eliminations with their strong compulsory dance. It might be noted that in their first year of World competition, World Champions Richard Horne and Jane Pankey finished 5th and then proceeded to capture the World Title the next year. Let's hope that Purrachio and Stephens can do as well. Virginia and Daniel Gilmetti skated excellently and actually won the Free Style portion of the event, but were unable to surpass the lead established by Stephens and Puracchio and finished second. A new addition to the World team will be the exciting and innovative Senior Dance team of Rick Schuler and Cheryl Trueman, who placed third at Nationals. Many will remember Cheryl as World Pairs Champion along with partner, Jack Courtney, prior to the Robovitsky's reign.
