Overall

Wojnarosky: "At our final team meeting, prior to our team party, I told the team we were very proud of their performances and that we fully expected each skater to be a part of future World Teams if they wanted to. Whether moving on to the senior level or continuing at the junior level, each of them showed the determination and desire it takes to be champions. Every single member of the team faced adversity they had to come back from during the meet and they all responded like the champions we knew they were."
