

2022 REFUND POLICY

Requests for refunds, including medical withdrawals, for the 2022 Nexus program will only be accepted if the Nexus Request for Refund Form is filled out. All information requested on the form must be completed for a refund to be considered. All refunds are at the sole discretion of USA Field Hockey and cannot be guaranteed.

The 2022 Nexus program will be held over three (3) weekends, for a total of 6-weekend days.

Refunds requested due to injury or a medical condition(s) must be accompanied by a medical opinion/letter. If an athlete needs to leave the program due to testing positive for the coronavirus (COVID-19), proof of a positive test result will be required.

Athletes that leave the program for an injury or a medical condition(s) will require a medical excuse for re-entry into the program the following year.

These requests will be eligible for a refund of $75 per weekend day missed.

If USA Field Hockey finds it necessary to cancel any portion of the program in the 2022 season due to COVID-19 restrictions, athletes will be given two options:

- Receive a refund valued at $75 per weekend day not delivered; or
- Apply their refund (maximum of $450) toward 2023 Nexus program (if this option is chosen, an additional $70 will be applied).

NOTE: Under no circumstance will any athlete that received financial assistance or other payment method receive a refund, or the additional credit for the 2023 Nexus program.

No refunds will be granted for missed sessions including date and location changes.

If either of the above conditions have not been met, no refunds will be granted after the start of the program in the athlete's specific region.
